

OUR YARD

One of our traditions has centered on our rates, a same policy depicts a bit of Christmas cheer throughout the employee family. The contract for both numbers 804 and 805 is both timely and gratifying. They represent a basic work load in rate construction which will make our New Year one of productivity and profit for all concerned.

In behalf of the management, I wish you and your loved ones a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Richard L. Burke

RESURRECTION

Within these walls the children were dedicated, the student taught, the young married, the wedding strengthened, the aged sustained and the bereaved comforted, and God was honored.

"Will they enter their eternal rest out of the hope of resurrection they are honored?"—Nehemiah 12.

"So we built . . . for the people had a mind to work."

—Nehemiah 4:1.

"The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, with the Lord of hosts; and in this place will I give peace, with the Lord."—Haggai 2:9.

Mr. Donald Baker, Director of the Department of Maintenance, is shown in his office. He is a member of the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning Engineers.

The Department of Maintenance is responsible for the upkeep and repair of all buildings on the campus. This includes everything from the roof and walls to the plumbing and electrical systems. The department has a staff of about 50 people, including carpenters, electricians, plumbers, and painters. They work on a variety of projects, from routine maintenance to major renovations. The department also handles the procurement of materials and the scheduling of work. The work is often done during the summer months when the campus is closed. The department's budget is about $1 million per year. The department is headed by Mr. Donald Baker, who has been in the position since 1955. He is a member of the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning Engineers. The department is located in the Administration Building on the campus.

MAINTENANCE 3RD DEPT. '60

The Department of Maintenance is a vital part of the university's infrastructure. It ensures that the buildings are safe, functional, and aesthetically pleasing. The department's work is often unglamorous but essential. For example, they might be responsible for fixing a leaky pipe or repainting a wall. They also handle the maintenance of the university's fleet of vehicles. The department's work is often done during the summer months when the campus is closed. ELECTRICAL

By Don F. Robinson

It is a fact that the electrical industry is one of the most important in our country. It is the backbone of our modern civilization. Without electricity, we would be unable to live as we do today. The electrical industry has made possible the development of many of our modern conveniences, such as the radio, the television, the refrigerator, the air conditioner, and the automobile. It has also made possible the development of many of our modern industries, such as the steel industry, the automobile industry, and the chemical industry. The electrical industry is a vital part of our economy, and it is one of the most important factors in our country's growth and development.

Faith In God

In searching our minds and hearts for the answer to this question, let us remember that down through the ages, Faith in God has been an all-powerful force in the lives of men . . . that it has been a never-failing source of strength in times of trouble.

Let us remember too, that all of the great and lasting movements of civilization have been dedicated to, and founded upon, Faith in a Supreme Power.

When our Pilgrim Fathers waded onto the shores of New England, there was no government ready to give them aid or comfort or support. All they had to sustain them was a deep and abiding Faith. But it was sufficient.

In those early days the nation's builders succeeded through the faith with the great songs of—Faith. In times of distress, of danger, of Thanksgiving, these answers always called upon Faith in God, which they justified with Faith in themselves, Faith in their Fellow Men, Faith in Freedom.

Upon these Faiths was the foundation—and the strength, and the security of our nation today.

Most of the world's two billion people have a firm Faith in the existence of a Supreme Power.

Throughout civilization, that Faith has persisted. It has survived the effects of wars and disasters to stamp it out. This Faith is woven into the foundation and uprights of our nation. It has given us strength when we faltered . . . courage when we were afraid . . . united us when we were divided.

Recognition of a Supreme Power and dependence upon that Power for guidance is contained in the Declaration of Independence and in our national and state Constitutions.

So strong was their Faith in God that our forefathers caused to be stamped on our coins the words "In God We Trust." To those founding fathers—to those men who signed the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution—those men who planned our land—this phrase had real meaning.

But what about us? Do these words "In God We Trust" guide us, inspire us, strengthen us?

If our country's future is uncertain—if we are worried about tomorrow—then we should do as our forefathers did! We should turn again to the Faiths which made our nation great.

Our country's leaders down through the years shared a new belief in God. In crisis and in peace, they placed their Faith in God's wisdom . . . in their own ability to work out their problems . . . in the great justice of a free people.

Between the America of yesterday and the America of tomorrow stands our generation. To us has fallen the duty to preserve the Faith, the Honor, the Strength and the Glory that is America.

So guided, we will save that America's destiny, and the world's.

By looking to God, by dedicating ourselves to His teachings, we and our children can be filled with renewed and strengthened Faith. Let us resolve to live "under God" as we have recently amended our Pledge of Allegiance.
